

Portable Pet Groomers Adds Holistic Pet Food Line

Pet Health and Owner Convenience Remain Common Themes

Portable Pet Groomers has expanded its business by becoming a distributor for a holistic, human grade pet food that is delivered to customers' doors. This food segment of Portable Pet Groomers' business, branded as PURITY PET FOOD and manufactured by HealthyPetNet, is among the healthiest on the market today. Unlike many other popular brands, this product does not contain hormones, steroids, animal byproducts, corn, wheat, soy, artificial colors, flavors or chemical preservatives.

"We believe so much in the quality and health benefits of this food, we chose to become ambassadors and spread the word to fellow pet owners so they can help their pets live longer, healthier lives," said Shelley Koenings, owner. "In addition to being packed with so much nutritional value dogs and cats actually eat smaller portions, the convenience of ordering online and having the food shipped to customers' homes fits nicely with our mobile grooming philosophy of convenience and no stress."

Purity Pet Food's product is formulated by a nationally-renown vet who works for the company to ensure the food is optimally nutritious. Ingredients include fresh chicken, fish, carrots, apples, celery, flaxseed, alfalfa, spinach and dried egg product, just to name a few, and it is manufactured in USDA-certified facilities with high quality standards. This brand has never experienced a recall. The food is not stored on shelves for months and years like many other brands; in fact, it is never more than three weeks old by the time it arrives at a customer's home.
